Participation is confirmed only upon receipt of full payment. The registration fee is inclusive of food and beverage and a goodies bag during the competition, and is strictly non-refundable under any circumstances.

- Participants are required to complete at least a short play (between 12 to 30 single-spaced pages) using English as the main language medium. They may use other languages in their pieces but it should be kept to a minimum with translations provided / footnoted.
- Participants will be given creative stimuli at regular intervals within the 24-hour period. These stimuli will be in the form of objects, places, snatches of dialogue, phrases or actions, which the participants must incorporate into their scripts. The stimuli must be utilised in its original form (e.g. no change of tense, no extrapolation, etc). The stimuli will be delivered to the participants at specified times. Participants should note that the creative integration of the stimuli will be the main consideration in the judging of their works. Should they omit any of the stimuli, their scripts will be penalised accordingly.
- Participants may choose to hand-write or type their scripts during the competition. Writing materials like paper and pens would be available, though participants are strongly encouraged to bring their own laptops and favourite stationeries. The organisers will also be providing printing and photocopying facilities.
- Discussion among the participants during the competition is strictly discouraged.
- A complete script must be submitted to the organisers by 2 pm on 6 July 2003. No late submissions will be entertained. Participants who fail to complete a script will also be disqualified.
